Nutricio Ortho Tablets are an ideal combination of 5 compounds: Glucosamine, Chondroitin, MSM, Boswellia, and Turmeric, to support Joint and Bone Health. Glucosamine is a compound that is naturally made in humans. The body uses glucosamine sulfate to stimulate cells to create one of the main building blocks of joint cartilage, proteoglycans. Chondroitin sulfate attracts and holds large amounts of water to the cartilage-building proteoglycan molecules. MSM (Methyl Sulfonyl Methane) is a natural sulfur-containing molecule and an efficient source of sulfur that is used by many of the body's structural molecules, including joint cartilage. Boswellia is a herbal extract from the Boswellia tree. Its anti-inflammatory effects such as rheumatoid arthritis, osteoarthritis, joint pain, swelling of the fluid-filled pads in the joints, and swelling of tendons. Turmeric and especially its most active compound curcumin is a potent anti-inflammatory and antioxidant and may also help improve symptoms of arthritis.
