

Detoxification Proveda Herbals

Detoxification

- Detoxification or detoxification (detox for short) is the physiological or medicinal / Herbal removal of toxic substances from a living organism, including the human body, which is mainly carried out by the liver.

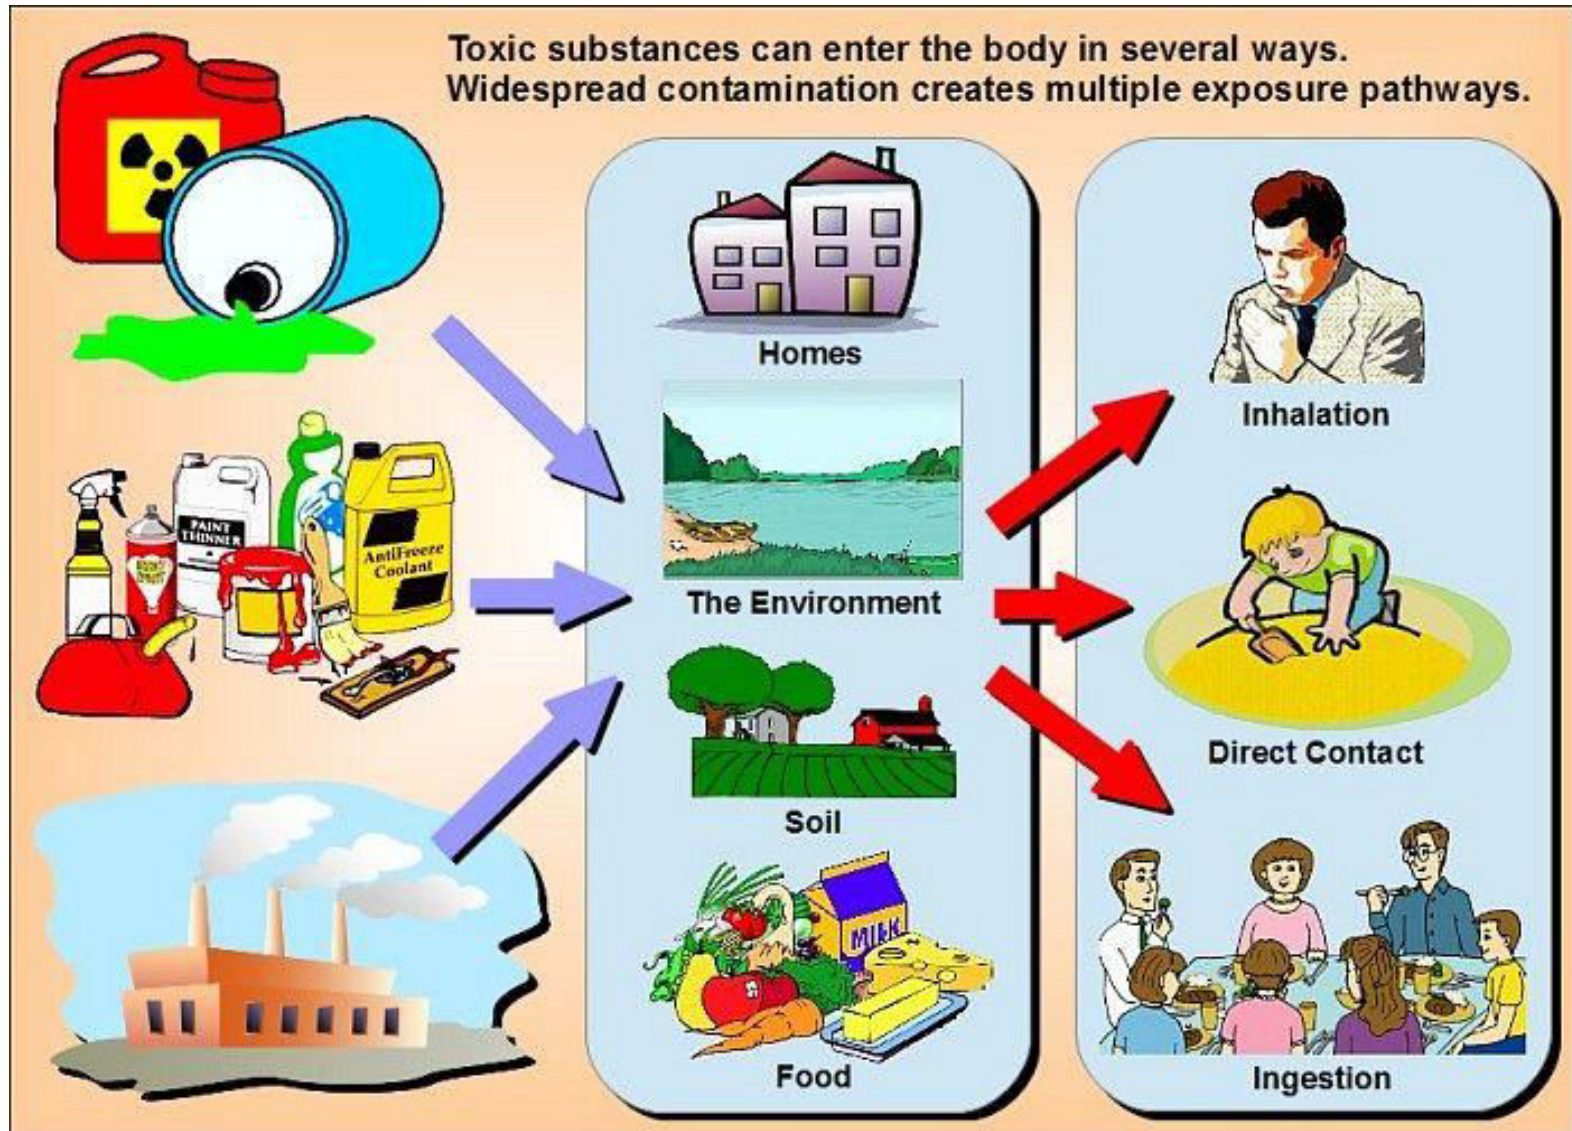

Why Detoxification

- At times the body gets overloaded by toxins, and our detox organs— the liver, kidneys, lungs, gut, and skin, which we count on for maintaining our health, get knocked out of balance.
- When this happens, we often experience significant symptoms that occur from the body trying to correct itself.

How Toxins enters the Body

How Toxins damage our Bodies

- Toxins damage enzymes and thus undermine countless bodily functions
- inhibiting the production of hemoglobin in the blood, for example,
- lowering the body's capacity to prevent the free-radical damage that accelerates aging.
- Toxins displace structural minerals, resulting in weaker bones.
